

The Psychology of Covid Vaccine Injuries

In this wide-ranging conversation we will hear about the ways in which the behavioural sciences have been deployed throughout the covid crisis, and how the issue of vaccine injury has been deliberately sidelined and essentially ignored by the mainstream narrative.

Our speakers are Dr Christian Buckland, a professional psychotherapist, sharing his expert insights and Caroline Pover, an award-winning writer, who will talk about her own personal journey of coping with vaccine injury.

Dr Christian Buckland

'Has psychology been weaponised? Media, science and the covid crisis.'

Professional psychotherapist, with a specialist interest in the assessment, treatment and management of eating disorders; and psychological advisor to a national eating disorder charity.

Christian works with the World Council for Health on vaccine injuries, and advises the UK Column on psychological issues.

Caroline Pover

'Life through the lens of the vaccine-injured.'

Caroline is a former primary school teacher, publisher and editor, an expert on Japan, and an award-winning writer, entrepreneur and philanthropist. The vaccine-injured and their supporters speak out...

“ The scale of this vaccine nightmare...

This [Commons] debate is about the tens of thousands who did the right thing, were vaccinated, but then as a result suffered death, serious injury, or other life-changing adverse consequences. ” (March 2022)

Sir Christopher Chope, MP

“ I felt shocked, bewildered, and guilty. We were trying to protect her, and instead I destroyed her. The guilt is huge.”

Susan Lawson

“ There’s thousands and thousands of people in the same position as me; there’s no help, there’s no medical help, first to understand what’s happened. There’s no financial help, we just want answers to what was done to us...”
